

This is the Curriculum of Lars Solberg, founder and CEO the Norwegian company Aptomar. He is leading business development and sales for the organization stretching from Norway, to Americas and Asia.

Lars Solberg

Born 1979 (Halden, Norway)
Master in Engineering Cybernetics from the Norwegian University of Science and Technology (NTNU)

Relevant experience

- Founded the company Aptomar in 2005, which since 2007 has been one of the fastest growing companies in Norway
- Working together with governmental bodies and oil companies to establish emergency response plans in relation to oil spill sensing, oil spill combating and oil spill contingency
- Designing and implementing sensor systems, training and exercises to help exploration and production companies to comply with national governmental regulations and license requirements, for e.g.
  - Petrobras
  - Statoil
  - Eni
  - BP
  - OGX
  - Talisman
  - CGA
  - NOFO
  - Shell
- Covering oil spill detection, combating and clean up management at more than 100 installations worldwide
- A part of the Norwegian contingency plan for acute pollution and combating, under management by the Norwegian Coastal Administration